

Your guide to MetLife Absence Reporting

MetLife makes it easy to report your disability claim as well as other types of absences, such as those that qualify under the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA), certain state leave laws and company-sponsored leaves. The following information explains how to report your disability claim and/or other absence request and what to expect.

Reporting your absence

If you're absent or expect to be absent from work due to sickness or pregnancy or for an accidental injury or emergency hospitalization, and/or Family and Medical Leave (FML), you must report your absence by:

1 Notifying your supervisor

2 Contacting MetLife: 1-833-622-0135
We're available Monday through Friday, from 8:00 a.m. – 11:00 p.m. Eastern Time

3 Or, reporting your absence to MetLife through the MyBenefits website at mybenefits.metlife.com

Please note that your own serious health condition (including pregnancy, 3 consecutive sick days); care of a qualified family member with a serious health condition; care of a qualified servicemember; qualifying exigencies arising out of a family member's call to active military service; or the birth, adoption, or foster placement of a qualified child may qualify for leave under the federal Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) as well as state leave laws similar to the FMLA. The MetLife Leave Coordinator will assist you in determining the type of leave for which you're entitled to and qualify for, based on your employer's absence policy and consistent with applicable law.
